

Mission Emphasis Sunday

Scripture: Acts 13:1-3

This Sunday is a time to focus on missions. We are all called to be missionaries; however, God uses all of us in different ways as different locations. These series of questions are designed to help each student realize that they are called to missions and to help them find their mission field.

- If you could travel anywhere in the world and cost was not a hindrance, where would you like to go?
- Who was the personal missionary who aided you in coming to a relationship with Jesus Christ?
- Why is it important to have other people pray over you and the endeavors that you are pursuing in the name of Jesus Christ?
- What are some passions in your life? {family, sports, business, the poor, money, electronics, etc...} How could you see God using these passions for His glory?
- What is something that is going on in the world today that really disturbs you in your inner spirit? Could this be a key for something for you to pursue to aid in?
- If you could attempt anything for God and you could not fail, what would you attempt?
- Many equate being a missionary with just going. However, missions involves giving, sending, praying, encouraging, organizing, technology, promoting, leading, going; where do you see yourself most involved in missions?
- What is God speaking to you concerning missions today?
- Commit to pray and encourage one another.
