

Life Group Roles

In Life Groups, we share the load and distribute roles and responsibility amongst group members. Not one person or couple should have to carry the weight of doing everything. Sharing responsibility is an intentional way that we can serve one another and the group.

Communication _____

The communication leader is responsible for being the point person between the group and church staff if there are any issues, needs, or questions amongst the group. Also, the communication leader is responsible for running the group's chat app (GroupMe, Whatsapp, etc.) and communicating info such as meeting place and time, activities, and events.

Bible _____

The Bible leader is responsible to work with the group to decide what kind of book of the Bible or Christian book they want to go through together. The Bible leader is not responsible for teaching a Bible Study but to research and find options for the group to read and discuss, and if applicable, help lead the discussion.

Time _____

The time leader is responsible for keeping the group in the time parameters. For example, if you have a "hang out time," the time leader will communicate that it's time to move on to the next group time element, whether that is share time, food, Bible time, etc. The time leader will also make sure the group is finished on time.

Calendar _____

The calendar leader is responsible for updating and managing the group calendar. They will communicate with the group to make sure the time and place for meeting is set for the month. The calendar leader will also ask for the groups availability for the month ahead and will vocalize if a "flex" in scheduling needs to take place in order to meet.

Food (if applicable) _____

The food leader is responsible to work with the group to map out dinners for the month ahead—whether there is some kind of rotation and/or if it is the host home's responsibility. We want to make sure everyone knows in advance what is planned so your group isn't eating the same thing every week.

Prayer _____

The prayer leader is responsible for recording prayer requests from your group and then sharing that info on a group chat or app (Echo Prayer). We do this so the group can pray for one another throughout the week. Also, as you follow up with prayer requests each week, the group can celebrate when God answers prayers!

Fun _____

The fun leader is responsible for coming up with and coordinating fun activities for the group, whether that is monthly or quarterly. This could mean game nights, eating out, camping trips, movie nights, pickle-ball, etc. The goal is to get everyone together and do something fun for everyone. Fun is an essential part of bonding.
